How's Your Soul? - Judah Smith

This is a relatable, refreshing call to anyone searching for lasting emotional stability, fulfillment, and satisfaction, inviting them to stop living from day to day and instead to start living intentionally with the end in mind. A quiet soul is far more valuable than fame and fortune. A level soul, a balanced soul, a genuine soul – that is a gift from God.

Rhythms of Rest – Shelly Miller

This book is for anyone who is weary – who longs for rest but doesn't know how to make it a reality. Shelly Miller, a sought-after mentor on Sabbath-keeping, shows how even busy people can implement a rhythm of rest into their lives – from small windows of time to a whole morning or day. She shares practical advice for not only finding physical refreshment but also restoring your soul. Sabbath is a gift from God to be embraced, not a spiritual hoop to jump through.

What Keeps You Up At Night – Pete Wilson

It's easy to feel paralyzed by uncertainty. We want our questions answered, our decisions affirmed, and our plans applauded. But life doesn't come with an instruction manual and rarely follows a straight path. How would your life change if you learned to lean into uncertainty instead of waiting on sidelines for just the right moment or opportunity? If you want to experience a breakthrough in your life, then you must find a new cadence that will provide the strength you need to move forward in spite of your doubts, questions, and fears. The rhythm of faith is not hinged upon our circumstances but our willingness to surrender.

I Tried Until I Almost Died – Sandra McCollom

Many of us believe that in order to please God, we have to be perfect. It's an easy lie to buy into. In a culture that emphasizes accomplishments and ever-higher goals, we feel driven to do more, achieve more, be more. Sandra shares how she left behind her burden of anxiety and shows you how to experience for yourself the freedom of trusting solely in the perfecting power of God's grace.
